NEWS SUMMARY.

-Gold at New York closed heavy, yesterday,

-The New York cotton market, yesterday, was heavy. Sales 2000 bales at 28 a 28 cents. -At Liverpool the cotton market closed dull. Sales 8000 bales. Uplands 11;a114d. -Four thousand two hundred barrels of green peas were shipped North from Norfolk, Va., last Saturday. -Chicago claims to hold the most valuable

$35,000 has lately been refused. -A girl eighteen years of age, living in Beerlingsville, Pa., was burned to death last week by the explosion of a kerosene oil can,

It has been raining continuously on the Pacific coast for several days, and it is thought the crops have been considerably damaged. -A $100,000 diamond has been found at the Cape of Good Hope. The native who picked it up sold it for five hundred sheep, ten oxen and a horse. -Efforts are making in England to amalgamate the two branches of the legal profession, by abolishing the distinction between attorneys and barristers.

-Captain R. H. Fletcher, a prominent citizen. of Dawson, Georgia, and universally esteenied, was shot and instantly killed a few days since. John Les has confessed the deed, and is new in jail to answer.

Those Englishmen who oppose the proposition to logalize murriage with a deceased wife's sister, urge that such a license would result in most horrible jealousy, and that wives would never allow their sisters to visit them when their husbands were at home.

-The government printing office is about to throw upon an afflicted country two hundred and fifty thousand new volumes, of which nearly one-half are Congressional Globes. It is a desperate attempt to give immortality to speeches which were never made, and, alas! even with this temptation, will never

-The King of Prussia aims to sustain the parental relation toward his army. Recently at an early review on the banks of the Rhine he saluted each passing regiment with a loud "Good morning, my children." The soldiers replied with equal beartiness, "Good morning, father," which seemed to please the old monarch greatly.

-The Macon Telegraph, of the 22d instant saye: "A distinct but short and sudden shock of an-earthquake was felt in this city last evening, about half-past seven o'clock. The writer felt it whilst at the supper table, and thought it was the jar of a cannon that had been fired; but, on inquiry, was informed that it was the shock of an earthquake, and that it had been felt in all portion; of the city."

—The Chinese have contracted the habit of what she considers her just right. covering their umbrellas, rooms and houses everything in short, with old European stamps, which they buy by thousands and millions. The Rhenish Mission, which has a station in China, collects these stamps and sells them at three shillings the thousand. From the money so acquired the mission educates such children as have been either exposed or sold as slaves by their unnatural Chinese parents.

-It is stated that the cauterization by hot tallow is an immediate cure for ingrowing nails. Put a small piece of tallow in a spoon, and heat it over a lamp until it becomes very hot, and drop two or three drops between the maland granulation. The effect is almost maed, and in a few days the granulation will all go, leaving the discused parts dry, so as to admit of bang pared away without any inconvenience. The operation causes little if any par if the tallow is properly beated. -The French have solved the problem of providing travellers by railroad with good dinners to be eaten at leisure. At certain points on the line, an officer of the road passes through the cars and takes the number of those who desire dinners. This is telegraphed to a station where the meal is to be cooked. On arriving at that station a box is placed in the hands of the diner, a moderate price is paid, and the dinner is eaten while the car is in motion, after which the box is returned. The dinner consists of four courses, including soup, and is bot and excellent, a small bottle of wine accompanying it. This plan is simple and worthy of being tried in this country, where the lines are longer, and the number of dinners much larger in proportion to the whole number of travellers. It would be a great improvement on the present system of stopping trains "five minutes for refreshment," consisting of a piping hot cup of poor coffee, and a quarter of heavy, indigestible pie, or a decaptively huge square of sponge cake. -On Friday last an engine of the Camden and Burlington County (New Jersey) Rauroad exploded its boiler while passing near Mount Helly. The engine was raised from the track and thrown violently into the air, and descended upon the track with tremendous force, breaking ties, bending rails, and scattering pieces of machinery in every direction. Again springing into the air, it made several revolutions, and finally lodged in the Rancpeas Creek, a distance of one hundred feet from where the explosion occurred. The cars were thrown together in one confused mass. The engineer, Job Goekil, and the fireman, Charles L. Platt, were fatally injured, and have since died. The conductor, John Sayler, is very seriously hurt, but hopes are entertained of his recovery. Mr. Sayler was thrown under some cars and rubbish, and was only extricated with great difficulty; be was seriously scalded, and his face and head were cut severely. The gigtop brakeman, Edward Joyce, was blown with the gig into an adjoining field, but escaped with a broken arm. There were five others on different parts of the train, who escaped with slight bruises. The explosion was caused by too great a pressure of steam, it being neces-sary for heavy trains to put on a full head in consequence of the steep grade at this

-The latest attempt of a convict to escape from prison occured at the Jollet penitentiary last Tuesday morning. On the evening honest mechanics and farmers, whose previous a colored convict had died, and his body was placed in a rough coffin for burial. On Tuesday morning, when the remains were about to be conveyed to the burying ground, the people's interest."

which is a short distance from the premises, one of the officers perceived a slight movement of the coffin lid, which had not yet been screwed down. The lid being raised, lo and behold, instead of a dead black man, a live white convict was found lying in the coffin. He was hustled out summarily and required to give an explanation. It appears that early in the morning, while the other convicts were at breakfast, he smuggled himself into the room where the coffin was, removed the corpse of the colored man, deposited it in an empty barrel, and got into the coffin himself, expect ing that he would be carried outside the walls and before reaching the burying-ground jump out and escape. Being almost smothered, he raised the lid slightly to get a breath of air, and was thus discovered in time to spoil his "little game." It he had remained quiet a minute or two longer, the lid would have been screwed down, and he would probably have been emothered to death.

CHARLESTON.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 26, 1869.

The South Carolina Central Railroad

It will be seen by the proceedings which we publish this morning, that the corporators of this important company have organized by electing the Hon. E. E. Dickson, of Manning, chairman; Dr. H. G. Fox, of Oro, Treasurer, and Mr. H. D. Corbett, Secretary. The Executive Committee, consisting of Dr. Fox, Mr. E. C. Green, and Mr. J. H. Feriter, have appointed commissioners to open books in New York and in horse in America, "Bashaw, Jr.," for which this State, and other arrangements have been made to give the enterprise a fair and speedy start.

We have already urged our business men to take hold of this important railroad, which will pour into the lap of Charleston the large and increasing trade of a section of country which now does its business with Wilmington and the North. With a road from Sumter to Gourdin's, we must receive and handle the whole produce of Sumter and Clarendon Counties, whose prosperity, also, will be rapidly developed by a cheap railroad communication with a good market and the seaboard. We hope that the company will receive substantial help in Charleston.

English Pluck.

That America can "whip creation," has passed into a Yankee axiom; and the belief that John Bull has a wholesome dread of an encounter, under any circumstances, with Brother Jonathan, has taken a singularly strong hold on the popular mind at the North. We are glad to see, however. that one leading American journal has had the manliness and good sense to publicly recognize the folly and absurdity of the ory that "England won't fight." The New York Times says:

"Nothing could be a greater mistake than such a sentiment about England. She is. indeed, the great trading nation of the world, and the one that has most to lose by war. She has the caution of an old veteran who knows what hard blows mean. But plack is a tradition with every Englishman personally, and a national quality. Much as Eogland loves money and commerce and peace, she would see every trading packet burned, her manufactures swept into the sea, and her rich fields made as Georgia was behind Sherman, rather than submit to a national indignity or give up is no doubt of this to any one who knows the English people. "She has the same old fire which has plazed out on so many battle-fields, and which burned so recently in the veins of her offspring-who sacrificed the lives and wealth of a whole generation rather than suffer a wrong to triumph and the nation be overthrown. Not a ghost of a party would be found on the side of peace in Great Britain if the nation once believed itself insulted and about to be forced to bear indignity.

"The Liberals and peace men would then be on the side of war. The 'dangerous classes' would vanish, as did our New York rowdies during our struggle; the Fenians would be of no more account than are our disaffected Indians now; debt and expense would be forgotten, and the stored wealth and capital of centuries would be poured out for the work of destruction. Nor would the old mother land be a contemptible antagonist. Thirty millions of compact people burning for war form an enormous power. The British navy is a tremendous mplement; and the experiment of landing troops on the coast of Ireland, with a fleet of a thousand hostile vessels watching the ocean, we can imagine would be somewhat hazardous. Modern warfare is a contest of purses, and in such a struggle the little island would stand equal, at least, with any competitor."

Senator Cain and the Radical Peliticians.

"Daddy Cain," the colored senator from Charleston, tells the colored people, in the last number of the Missionary Record, that they must change their policy and elect honest men to office. He says:

"Colored men must place their eyes on every office now filled by mea who have leaped into them by the means of fraud and corruption Remember that none of them have benefitted your race one sou markee, and yet you have foisted them into office, and are now walking about the streets, penniless, homeless, and without a prespect of ever attaining anything. Each man you have elevated to office receives his thousands of dollars yearly, yet not one dollar of that means is placed within your reach. What enterprise have they engaged in which will give one colored man a dollar Not one of these men has done anything with his means to augment the wealth of the State or encourage any enterprise which would give employment to a man in this State. Colored men must change their policy and encourage such men in public affairs as will give the State something in return for the honor conferred upon them. Change your policy, and make honor contingent with the State's prosperi-ty. He whom the State honors, should honor the State and his constituents by a return to her and them of such measures as will guarantee material prosperity. We would favor sending to the Legislature
